

This week

W/C Monday 7th September 2026

This week at Netley Marsh, we have been getting stuck into our learning. From awesome number formation in math to sorting objects into different materials in science. Our drawing club was full of exploring the book 'The Koala who could', in which we recreated Kevin the Koala and gave him all sorts of hobbies, such as cliff jumping and Olympic swimming! We have also had some discovery time, in which the children have had the chance to explore all the resources available to them, spend some time with their new classmates and get stuck into all kinds of messy play! It has been a very exciting week!
