

This week

W/C Monday 21st September 2026

This week at Netley Marsh, in maths KSI have been looking at finding one more and one less using different manipulatives to find the answers. This has been really successful in the classroom. Our RE this term is looking at the story of creation, so we got to be creative and make our own creation using clay. The children really enjoyed this and have been looking after them at school, and this week they got to take them home. In literacy, we have been continuing to look at Martha Maps it out, in which we have been writing about what we can see in our local area and reflecting on our journey to school.
