

This week...

What We've Been Working On

In Literacy, we launched our new text, by having a go at some circus skills. We also matched a selection of verbs to the correct circus acts. In History, we began exploring a range of artefacts including old cameras, telephones, radios and televisions. The class also created a questionnaire about technology from the past, which will be sent home soon for them to quiz you on!

